Mr. Burston has owned and managed a highly successful communications consulting firm for nearly two decades. Mr. Burston has been a part of the senior Punch TV team since Fall 2010 and currently has four new series in Pre-Production for Punch TV.

My wife Betty and I recently completed reading the book, My Call, and the two of us were absolutely blown away. Author, Ronald Gray, is a very talented writer. My Call combines the mystical, the erotic, romantic, and intrigue. We absolutely must produce this film before someone else does and we are currently working on accomplishing that goal. Meeting and working with Mr. Gray while he was in California allowed me to personally see his dedication and determination to serve as part of the new vanguard in multi ethnic-entertainment. The film project is currently in the Pre- Production phase. Readers can look for this film by this time next year, if not before. Get ready world for a visual and spiritual theatrical experience!

The book, "My Call" has a story line that reflects movies such as: The Ten Commandments, Scarface, and New Jack City combined into one. The book and movie involve; drama, action, sex, violence, suspense, horror, prayer, comedy, heart breaking emotional events, die-hard love, and the supernatural. I look forward to working with Mr. Gray.

Sincerely,

Sid Burston
